

Project Leadership and Process Improvement

Managing Successful Programmes (MSP)

Programme management is a priority for successful business change.

MSP helps an organisation achieve business benefits through looking at good practice in project, programme and risk management.

Course Overview

MSP is a framework for managing and controlling programme activities which focuses on process, communications and ways of thinking. This course provides a globally recognised qualification

Key Principles

- Leadership
- Benefits management
- Stakeholder management and communication
- Risk management
- Programme planning and control
- Business case management
- Quality management issues

Process and Delivery

1. Clear programme definitions, benefit identification, business benefit measurement
2. Programme management and delivery
3. Programme completion and exit strategy

Benefits

- Clear standards
- Provides a framework of best practice principles
- Offers guidance adaptable to real life situations
- Access by teams and organisations as well as by individual practitioners
- Support for practitioners in improving their decision making
- Globally recognised qualification

Quality Assurance

MSP Partners are accredited to ensure that only quality assured services are offered. All consultants offered by the Forton Group are accredited MSP Partners.

The accreditation has been developed by a consortium of over 100 organisations and MSP has been adopted widely in both public and private sectors.

AIM (Applied Implementation Methodology) is a way of bringing the human aspects to complement traditional project management techniques in a structured way.

SSADM (Structured Systems Analysis and Design Methodology) is a methodology favoured by the Civil Service and IT practitioners for developing and project managing large computer systems. Our consultants trained in these approaches bring the additional benefit of a leadership coaching methodology to ensure the transfer of skills back into the workplace.

Contact us for more information:

email: info@thefortongroup.com

tel: 0845 006 1428

www.thefortongroup.co.uk or write to:

Helen Caton Hughes, Chief Executive,
The Forton Group,
College Farm,
Main Street,
Willoughby,
Warwickshire, CV23 8BH, United Kingdom